VALUATION OF BRIDGE

Fixed By the Commis- sioners.

They Appraise the Snake River Bridge at $2,664.32.

The commissioners appointed to appraise the Snake river bridge met at Hunter hall last Wednesday and heard testimony relating to the value of the bridge. The commissioners continued in session until 11 p. m. in order to complete their work. In behalf of the city testimony was given by I. H. Boynton, N. J. Nicholson and Hans Wally. Bridge owners offered the testimony of Dr. G. H. Redding, Michael Gaffney, M. D. Balsar, T. Eearets, E. Franklin Lewis, Elmer Reed and Mr. Horsfall, one of the owners of the Nome river bridge.

Witnesses for the city estimated the value of the bridge at from $1,535 to $1,958.00. Witnesses for the bridge owners estimated the value at from $3,500 to $5,000. The commissioners, after carefully inspecting the bridge, and ascertaining from their inspection and the testimony the material in the bridge and the cost of construction, fixed the valuation at $2,664.32. Following is the itemized estimate:

161, M. ft. lumber @ $40,	$ 640 00

CHOYNSKI THE VICTOR

Finishes Burley In Six Rounds.

An Eight-Thousand Dollar House Saw the Fight.

The steamer Loulse, that left Dawson the night of Aug. 7, has brought to St. Michael the news of the Burley-Choynski fight, which took place before an eight-thousand dollar house just before the steamer left.

The fight was a hotly contested battle in which Choynski was the victor. He put the finishing touches on Burley in the sixth round.

George Gardner is in Dawson. Before the fight he challenged the winner, and no doubt a match between him and Choynski has been arranged.

At the first fight between Burley and Choynski there was a six-thousand-dollar house, and an eight-thousand dollar house at the last fight. Evidently Dawson is a good town for pugilists.

KOYUKUK DIGGINGS

Cost of Supplies Serious Drawback.

U. S. Commissioner McKenzie Says Country Is All Right.

D. A. McKenzie, United States Commissioner of the Koyukuk district, came to Nome from St. Michael yesterday and sailed for the outside on the Ohio. He will not return until next spring. Mr. McKenzie has held the office of Commissioner in this district for five years. His headquarters are at Coldfoot. He believes that with cheaper supplies the Koyukuk country will be developed into a productive gold field.

"Last year," he said, "there was but little water for mining work, and the total gold product of that region was not more than $200,000. But I think there will be a larger output this season. Some new creeks have been discovered and opened up, and they are the most promising of all the properties in the district. The two best creeks are Mascot and Washington, tributaries of the Seattle river.

"There are 500 white people in this part of the country and about as many natives. We have the best Indians in Alaska. They work in the mines and render valuable help in the transportation of supplies.

"The cost of transportation is the most serious drawback to the country, and there will not be any great progress made until we have facilities for getting supplies cheaper than at present. At Coldfoot flour sells for $11 a sack, sugar three pounds for a dollar, milk 75 cents a can, and other staples in like proportion."

A Bitter Blow.

"This," said the prostrate horse, moving its injured limb to a less painful position on the slippery pavement, "is indeed the irony of fate."

"Do you refer," asked its unharmed mate, sympathetically, "to the proverb concerning a naughty spirit before a fall?"

"No," replied the horse; "but I have just heard them call for an automobile ambulance to carry me to the veterinary hospital."—Town Topics.

Too Literally Harmonious.

Haberdasher—What is this you have done to Vanity? He declares you have insulted him, and that he will never buy another penny's worth in this store.

Clerk—Why, he came in and said that he wanted a complete outfit that harmonized with his physique. I glanced down at his legs and laid a bow tie on the show case, and before I could dig up the other things he was gone.—Los Angeles Herald.

One Definition.

"What is the difference between a statesman and a politician?" asked the little boy who wants to grow up to be wise.

"A statesman," said the man of great practical force, "is the man who is studying what the constitution of the United States means, while the other people are hustling to get votes."—Washington Star.

Ambiguous.

"He may mean well," said the young doctor, "but I don't exactly like the tone of his letter."

"What's the matter?" inquired the old practitioner.

"Jones, the undertaker, writes and says that if I will send my patients to him he will guarantee them satisfaction."—Judge.

Hard Luck.

"Aren't you glad you are living in this age of invention?" exclaimed the thin man with the wart on his nose.

"Can't say I am," replied the bald-headed man. "You see, I married a widow, and she's got a phonograph that she is forever having grind out records that her first husband made!"—Brooklyn Eagle.

Achievement.

"Remember, young man," said the practical friend, "that in order to succeed you must teach people to trust you."

"I have done that," answered the gloomy young man. "I have succeeded in getting into debt beyond my fondest expectations."—Washington Star.

Merely an Inference.

Maudie—Mr. De Jones asked me to sing to him the other evening after we had been introduced.

Clara—And what did you sing?
Maudie—Why, how do you know that I sang at all?

Clara—Well, I noticed that he didn't ask you to sing to-night.—Tit-Bits.

News Notes.

Dr. E. S. Grigsby has been appointed physician for the federal jail.

Many girls and boys and a sprinkling of those of maturer age are enjoying the splendid skating afforded by the smooth ice on the Snake river.

On every hand may be witnessed preparations for the winter. Business houses are putting up their storm doors and setting in place the extra window sashes.

W. W. Ewing, of the firm of Archer, Ewing & Co., is receiving the congratulations of his friends upon the advent of a girl baby into his household.

The steamship Oregon carried on her last trip from this port 480 passengers. The Oregon will be put on the run between San Francisco and Seattle during the winter.

Last Sunday morning Mr. and Mrs. Elmer D. Smith received a visit from the legendary stork. The old bird left a baby girl. As this is the first born, Mr. Smith is receiving numerous congratulations.

Now that the criminal cases have all been disposed of Judge Moore is busy hearing the many civil cases awaiting trial. The calendar is a long one and many new cases are filed daily.

George Ryan was arrested yesterday for the theft of a pair of rubber boots. Chief Wallingford found the stolen property in Ryan's possession, so a charge of larceny was preferred against him.

Bursik and Binswanger, the new firm that has succeeded to the business of Simson Bros., will open their doors for business tomorrow. As both members of the firm are well known and popular old residents of Nome, they should do a good business.

The Arions made nominations of officers last Sunday night, and will elect officers for the ensuing year next Sunday evening.

WILL BUILD NEW ROAD

Teamsters Will Take Matter in Hand

To Follow Line of Railroad From Golovin to Council.

A meeting of the teamsters of Nome will be held in Judge Reed's court room on Steadman avenue this evening at 8 o'clock. The meeting is called by E. E. Fleming, who has charge of the business of C. L. Morris during the winter; A. H. Moore, of the Moore freighting company, and A. E. Boyd, of the long distance telephone line.

It is the purpose of the meeting to provide for the construction of a land trail from the Fish river roadhouse to Council City, so as to avoid the overflow of the Fish and Neukluk rivers.

The old trail followed the meanderings of the Fish river over the ice and a portage made to the Neukluk and along that river to Council City—a distance of 18 miles. The new trail when completed will be nearly four miles shorter, and will be entirely over land.

It will follow along the line of the proposed railroad from Golovin Bay to Council City, and is practically over a level country. The de Soto company have caused the line of the railroad survey to be brushed to considerable extent, and very little labor and expense will be necessary to put the trail in good condition.

In all probability at to-night's meeting means will be devised for financing the work and labor employed at once. It is the intention to complete the new road at the earliest possible moment.

We now have a fine line of building material, including doors, windows, building paper, etc., also hickory, oak and spruce.

THE NOME NEWS

NOME, ALASKA, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1903.

WHISKEY LEFT ON BEACH

In Order That Natives May Elude the Law.

The native in and around Nome seems to experience no difficulty in obtaining whiskey in any quantity and at any time. Early last Monday morning two native men and a native woman were seen intoxicated on the beach near Taylor & Eaton's place in the east end of town.

Just who furnished the liquor is not known, but the natives were seen to go to a particular spot on the beach about 8 o'clock and there they found several bottles of whiskey. The rendezvous had evidently been prearranged and the liquor left there at some time during the night.

They lost no time in draining the bottles and were soon in a disgusting condition. The squaw endeavored to get the men away but they commenced quarreling, and it was some time before her efforts prevailed. One man remained prostrate upon the beach during the morning, and the woman succeeded in leading the other as far as Tanner & Clark's lumber yard, where he was left to sober up, the woman disappearing soon afterwards.

TEAMSTERS RAISE FUNDS

To Build Road From Fish River to Council City.

Success attended the first concerted action on the part of the teamsters of Nome and now a good winter trail will be at once constructed between the Fish river roadhouse and Council City.

The meeting Tuesday evening in the U. S. commissioner's court room was well attended and the money raised and contract let for the work. Mr. Willis was elected permanent chairman and Mr. Fleming secretary.

Considerable discussion concerning the route was had with the result that it will practically follow the line of the long distance telephone line. It will extend from the Fish river roadhouse to Council City, a distance of about 12 miles, thus effecting a saving of near four miles over the old trail. The new road will be entirely overland and the spring overflows of the Neukluk river and Fish river avoided.

It was determined that $100 would be sufficient for the work in hand and that sum was raised by subscriptions from the following: A. E. Boyd, E. W. Shirk, C. S. Moore, D. Gilchrist, J. Ryan and Rowe & Willis.

The contract for the work was given to Mr. Fleming, acting for C. L. Morgan, within a short time the road will be completed. It is expected that Mr. Tubbe and Mr. Marshall, freighters at Council City, will cooperate with the freighters of this city and the free use of the long distance telephone was tendered by Mr. Boyd for the transmission of all messages pertaining to the movement.

IMMENSE VOLUME OF BUSINESS TRANSACTED

Statement Showing Receipts and Disbursements of the Office of the Clerk of the United States District Court for the Year From October 1, 1902, to September 30, 1903.

The office of the clerk of the United States District Court at Nome is a busy one. Handling thousands of dollars during the year; watching carefully the many sources of revenue and zealously guarding the disbursements, the details of the office are many and varied. Only a perfect system could result in the efficient manner in which the vast volume of business is handled.

Hundreds upon hundreds of legal documents are filed within the office and yet any paper at any time is easily found at a moment's notice.

A glance at the table will show the receipts and disbursements of this office from October 1, 1902, to September 30, 1903.

The total cash on hand, October 1, 1902 amounted to $59,451.04 and September 30, 1903, $49,406.41. The total receipts for the 12 months from the various sources amounted to $115,062.53; the disbursements for the

There has been paid from this fund to the city since the incorporation of the town of Nome, April 9th, 1901, to date, the sum of $78,234.78, divided as follows: 1901, $33,000; 1902, $28,520.25; and 1903 to date, $16,734.50.

The amount to "House Fund B," represents the money collected from houses in the district outside of incorporated towns. Prior to March 2, 1903, all of the money was available for court expenses. By the Act of Congress passed on that date, 50 per cent. of this amount only is available for court expenses; the other 50 per cent. being deposited in the treasury of the United States to be placed at the disposal of the secretary of the Interior to be by him used for the support of schools in the district outside of incorporated towns.

HOLIDAY ABOUT 3,300

Pupils of Various Rooms Compete With One Another. Census Has Been Completed—Final Report Made Soon.

A plan to encourage good discipline and orderly marching among the pupils of the Nome public schools has been inaugurated by Prof. Traphagen and the results have proved that the idea was correct. During each week the various rooms are recorded with a certain per cent for good order and a record of attendance and punctuality is also maintained.

These records are turned over to Prof. Traphagen and at the end of the month the room having the highest average, all things being considered, the pupils of that room are given a half holiday. The prize was carried away by the pupils in Miss Sutherland's room this month and the appreciation of the teacher will be evidenced by a sleigh ride which will be given to her pupils within the near future. During the past months the pupils under Miss Mauzy and Mrs. Staples have each won their half holiday and are again working hard for the honor.

The plan is working well and the best of feeling is maintained among teachers and pupils, though the rivalry is keen. Each room strives its utmost to win the distinction attached and thus far a different room has proven winner each time.

The Best of Everything at the Old Reliable

Patrolman Mooney has completed his work of taking the census of Nome and the report has been turned over to the city. The final report will be made next Monday evening at the regular meeting of the city council.

Despite the many disadvantages under which he worked Patrolman Mooney has done his work quickly and well and the result of his labors will prove a surprise to many who have been predicting a smaller population than heretofore. In round numbers the population is 3,300, and this does not embrace any of the districts outside of the city proper.

RAISING FUNDS TO BUY BRIDGE

Merchants are Contributing and the End is in Sight.

Councilman Galvin is working hard to secure the purchase of the Snake river bridge by the city and it now appears as though his efforts would be successful. The object is a good one and is meeting with the support of all of the business men of Nome.

A subscription list has been started and is headed by the Pacific Cold Storage company who have agreed to pay $125 toward the cause. Other merchants have also signified their willingness to contribute as have also the various teamsters and freighting concerns. It is possible that before the next meeting of the council all of the money will have been raised and the city will own the bridge without expense to the city as a whole.

The cost of the bridge will amount to $2,000 and this will purchase all of the interests controlled by the bridge people including their right to any franchise.

Washington recently on the subject of artificial eggs, writes a correspondent to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. A person claims to have invented a process for making them—patent newly applied for—has been exhibiting samples and giving them away about town. Some dozens have been served in the clubs, boiled, fried, poached and scrambled, and the general verdict is that it would be impossible for anybody to distinguish them from real ones. Externally they look exactly like the sort laid by hens. Break the shell of a raw specimen and the contents flop into a glass in as natural a manner as possible, the yolk and white unmingled. It has been claimed that no imitation egg could ever be made to "beat up" for cake, but these do perfectly.

The inventor says that his eggs are, chemically speaking, a precise reproduction of nature. Corn meal is the basis of their material. The white is pure albumen, of course, while the yolk is a more complicated mixture of albumen and several other elements. Inside the shell is a lining of what looks somewhat like the delicate, filmy membrane formed by the hen, while the shell itself is stated to be made in two halves, stuck together so artfully that no one can discover the joining. The very germ of the chicken, with unnecessary faithfulness of imitation, as one might think, is counterfeited.

The eggs are made of various shapes and tints. One will be able to buy, as soon as they are placed on the market, counterfeit pullets' eggs or eggs laid by elderly hens; likewise select white eggs or dark colored eggs, according to choice. Most surprising of all, they will be sold for only ten cents a dozen, and they never get rotten. To confectioners and others who use large quantities of eggs the yolks and whites will be sold separately, put up in jars and hermetically sealed. In this shape they will also be convenient for household employment.
