Dear India Spartz,

I am sending you an index that I have made up in connection with a practicum class that I am participating in at the University of Alaska Fairbanks. The class allows me to participate in a job related field with Natural Resource Management. I am working with Sherry Simpson at the Department of Natural Resources on the RS 2477 land issue. My task is to copy photos of the trails/roads that the Alaska Road Commission built prior to Alaska becoming a state. These photos are to be used in conjunction with the already researched files on various trails/roads for documentation in the RS 2477 land issue. I have come across some very unique photos, of which I have copied for my self. I did not intend to make this index at the onset of this project, but, after I got into it, I thought that someone behind me may find it of some use.

I am still interested in going through the rest of the albums on this subject. When I get the time to visit Juneau to accomplish this task, is up in the air. If there is anything I may do for you in the future, please feel free to contact me or the folks in the archives at the University of Alaska, or my e-mail address is (tmarsh@polarnet.com). Thank you for your assistance and I may visit Juneau this summer.

Sincerely,

Terry Marsh
