Kevin, from Mike's email it sounds as if BLM intends to assert that the water in Toolik Lake belongs to BLM and not the state of Alaska. The document forwarded by Henry Brooks as a BLM URL at the bottom of the page but that page no longer exists on BLM's servers. I downloaded a complete copy of the document and have attached it. It might crash as it is 13 mb. Also was a document called BLM Water rights policy and a FOIA request that includes pages of BLM manual 7250 that I couldn't find elsewhere. JohnB
